When the King and Queen arrived on American soil, Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, greeted them in the following words:

"On behalf of the Government and the people of the United States, I have the honour and pleasure of extending to you our warmest welcome. All are delighted at your visit and the people in my country in the most genuine spirit of cordiality, hospitality and friendliness, have every desire to make your stay a thoroughly enjoyable one."

According to the "New York Herald-Tribune," the King and Mr. Cordell Hull had a "serious talk" before boarding the train for Washington.

13,000 POLICE

NEW YORK, June 8 (Reuters)—The biggest mobilization of police in the history of the United States ordered for the visit of Their Majesties here, effects some 13,000 officers, constables and detectives, of whom nearly 11,000 are specials.

Weather permitting, Their Majesties will enter New York aboard the crack destroyer Warrington, which is capable of 37 knots.

It is announced from Niagara Falls that the Queen will make a second broadcast before finally leaving Canada.

EVERY PRECAUTION

Every precaution has been taken for the Royal visit. Minesweepers will drag the lower New York Bay before Their Majesties cross in the destroyer from Hancock, New Jersey, to Manhattan on Saturday.

To-morrow two large coastguard cutters, and three small ones, will begin patrolling the waters near Fort Hancock and an anti-aircraft battery, complete with searchlight and sound locators, will be in position there while hundreds of troops will search the adjacent territory.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO RAISE THETIS

HAWSER, PARTS UNDER STRAIN

LONDON, June 8 (BWS)—The first attempt to raise the submarine Thetis in Liverpool Bay was unsuccessful this morning and a statement will probably be made on the progress of the salvage work in the Commons this afternoon.

It is reported that, partly owing to a heavy swell in the Bay, one of the hawsers parted under the strain. Orders were immediately sent for specially strong cables which, owing to the depth at which the Thetis lies, will have to be used.

As considerable time is being taken in placing these lines under the vessel it is recognized that some time must elapse before the Thetis is hoisted. Even under the most favourable conditions progress when the submarine is clear of the sea-bed must necessarily be slow.

MADAME CHIANG NOT IN COLONY

The "Hongkong Daily Press" is in a position to state authoritatively that a report which has been circulated locally to the effect that Madame Chiang Kai-shek had arrived in the Colony by plane from Chungking is absolutely untrue. Madame Chiang is still in Chungking aiding her husband in his war duties and carrying on her own multifarious war relief activities.

CHINESE ON CANTON OUTSKIRTS

GENDARMERIE HQRS. ATTACKED

CHUNGKING, June 8 (Reuters)—A Chinese despatch from Yungch claims that the Chinese troops on the night of May 24 raided the northern outskirts of Canton, attacking the Japanese Gendarmerie Headquarters in Shuansing Street. Another detachment it is claimed reached Sihua Road and killed a Chinese named Tseng Min said to be the Assistant Chief of the Detective Section of the Peace Maintenance Commission.

The Chinese troops, it is stated, were withdrawn at dawn.

Air Raid Threat

A later message from Chungking states that bad weather conditions and poor visibility prevented a Japanese attempt to raid Chungking on the evening of June 7, but that the squadron, on its way back to the base at Hankow, bombed Wanhsien, the treaty port on the Yangtze, below Chungking. Chinese pursuit planes, after the alarm was given at 6 p.m., went up, cruising above the city ready to challenge the raiders, which, after bombing Wanhsien, returned down the river.

PLANE CRASH IN AMSTERDAM

A training plane crashed when flying over a military camp in Amsterdam owing to an engine defect. The plane struck a tent which was occupied by eight persons, one of whom was killed instantaneously, six others being gravely wounded. Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, who was just passing the camp in a motor-car rushed to the scene of the accident and supervised first aid treatment for the victims. The four occupants of the plane escaped unhurt. (T.O.)

HECTIC CONDITIONS IN SHAI STOCK EXCHANGE

Monday's Cash Settlement Will Be Heaviest Recorded

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Reuters)—Conditions even more hectic than those witnessed on Wednesday were experienced in the stock market to-day. The turnover reached enormous proportions and Monday's cash settlement will be the heaviest ever recorded since the abolition of forward business. It is again difficult to select special stocks for mention but it is quite safe to say the majority of stocks rose from 5 to 10 per cent, though profit taking finally resulted in most of the gains being reduced by half.

It is interesting to note how to-day's purchases of stocks and shares have become the favourite method adopted for the protection of capital and that the public shows less inclination to purchase foreign exchange.

The impression is strong that $35 for £1 or $3 for U.S.$1 is not the best or the cheapest form of capital protection and that the purchases of rubber shares, or leading industrial counters, will provide both the profit and insurance premium.

While a superficial impression indicates that some shares may have advanced too rapidly a careful study shows that in the case of good rubber companies (large units with cheap costs) the rise in their values by no means kept pace with the depreciation in currency and there is much leeway that should be made up.

The outstanding movements to-day were in Ewos, Intascos, Trams and Kailings while in rubbers, Anglo-Javas, Kroweoks, Swan shares and Rubber Trusts appreciated sharply.

As a result of very heavy business done for delivery on Monday next and in order to cope with settlements, the Committee of the Stock Exchange, as an exceptional measure, has decided to open the market on Monday next for transaction of business at 2.30 p.m. instead of 9.30 a.m.

CONSIDERABLE INDIGNATION

SENSATION IN WEST POINT

Dance Hostesses Go On Strike

A minor sensation, and a major inconvenience to pleasure-seekers, was caused in the West Point amusement quarter last night when the dance hostesses employed by the Capital (Kam Ling) cabaret walked out on strike, leaving behind only the band and such of the patrons who had brought their partners with them.

Officials of the place, which is owned by a Chinese combine, were reticent when approached on the matter, but it was learned from reliable quarters that the girls had walked out as a protest against the alleged dismissal by the owners of Mr. "Chico" Remedios, described as the licensee of the ballroom.

EXTREME STEP

It was stated that Mr. Remedios had been dismissed on Wednesday night and that the girls, with whom he was very popular, had made representations to the management following an "indignation" meeting. As nothing was promised, they had decided to take the extreme step of walking out in sympathy.

At first the majority had left the place, leaving behind a few stragglers, but these later joined in the movement, and by 10.30 p.m. the cabaret presented a unique sight, particularly as yesterday was a holiday.

FLOW OF MEDICAL SUPPLIES INTO INTERIOR OF CHINA CONTINUES UNHINDERED

Despite Difficulties Of Transportation

CHUNGKING, June 8 (Central)—The flow of medical and relief supplies into the interior is continuing satisfactorily despite transportation difficulties, according to Dr. C. Y. Wu, technical expert of the National Health Administration stationed in Hongkong.

Dr. Wu is visiting Chungking to consult with Dr. F. C. Yen, Director of the Administration, on various transportation problems.

Despite disruption of communications in the south, after the fall of Canton in October last year, between 3,000 and 4,000 cases of Red Cross supplies were sent to the interior in the past six months, Dr. Wu reported.

Among the valuable items were about ten tons of quinine donated, for the most part, by the overseas Chinese in the Netherlands East Indies and by organizations and individuals in America and Europe.

A total of nearly 15,000 cases of all kinds of Red Cross supplies, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, have been sent to the interior since Dr. Wu was sent to Hongkong in October, 1937, to supervise for the Red Cross the transportation of medical and relief supplies donated by individuals and societies abroad.

By various routes, sea, air and land, and by truck, rail, junk and plane, these supplies were sent first to Hankow, and later, when the Yangtze port fell to Changsha, still later, when Canton fell, the supplies were re-routed through Kwangsi and Kwetchow provinces. Dr. Wu has also received and transferred to the interior $3,000,000 in cash donated to the Red Cross by friends abroad.

Throughout Dr. Wu has been co-operating closely with Dr. Robert K. S. Lim who was appointed director of the Medical Relief Commission of the Chinese Red Cross Society in December, 1937.

FIELD ORGANIZATION

The bulk of the monetary donations also went to the support of Dr. Lim's field organization, the budget of which is approximately $250,000 a month. It

Well-Known Ships Will Not Be Stopped By Japanese

TOKYO, June 8 (Reuters)—Well-known liners in future will be exempted from being stopped and examined by Japanese warships an Admiralty spokesman stated to-day.

He added that there was no change in the policy of the Japanese Navy which was to respect the peaceful commerce of third Powers, but he referred to the "dire necessity" for Japanese warships to stop and visit foreign vessels of China in order to ascertain their nationality on account of the increase of smuggling under foreign flags.

CHINA WAR NEWS:

LULL IN CENTRAL HUPEH & NORTH KIANGSI FRONTS: ADVANCE IN WEST SHANSI

CHUNGKING, June 8 (CENTRAL)—COMPARATIVE QUIET PREVAILS ON THE CENTRAL HUPEH AND NORTH KIANGSI FRONTS, REPORTS RECEIVED HERE INDICATE.

In Central Hupeh, the Japanese troops at Tsiengkang, on the Han River and Yokow, across the River, are busily constructing defences and repairing highways. Those at Kiangshan, north-west of Hankow, and Tienmen, South of Kiangshan, are reported to have been partially withdrawn. They departed in several directions, one column moving to Hsiaokan, north-west of Hankow on the Peiping-Hankow Railway.

Skirmishes took place the day before yesterday to the south-east of Tungcheng, in South Hupeh.

There has been practically no change in North Kiangsi. Artillery duels have occurred at Wuning, north-west of Nanchang, and Fungiangwan, north-east of Kaocan.

In North Hunan

MILO, HUNAN, June 8 (Central)—Chinese forces scored another victory over the Japanese on the north bank of the Sinsiang River in north Hunan yesterday.

After "mopping up" the Japanese south of Tialshan, the Chinese advanced northward in two columns. One column pushed toward Tialshan, while the other flanked the Japanese at Tayunshan and Chungkiang. Both of the latter places were recaptured. Japanese losses included forty men killed and 57 rifles and five machine-guns captured by the Chinese.

There Will Be No War

GENEVA, June 8 (T/Ocean)—The firm conviction that there will be no war was expressed by the Swiss statesman, M. Edmond Schulthess, in an address at the opening session of the International Labour Conference here to-day which elected M. Schulthess as its President.

Mr. Schulthess pointed out that his conviction that war will be avoided was based on the fact that responsible statesmen of all Powers have repeatedly stressed their determination to do everything in their power for the preservation of peace.

H.K. JOCKEY CLUB'S FINAL MEET BEFORE THE RECESS: SPECIAL LANTAO SWEEP

BY "LAST QUARTER"

The Sixth Extra Race Meeting being held under the auspices of the Hongkong Jockey Club to-morrow afternoon will bring to a close the first half of the season's sport. The ponies will then enjoy a three month respite until racing resumes during the second half of September.

The programme to-morrow consists of nine handicap events confined to ponies that have not been too successful since the beginning of the year, with the Lantao Handicap as the chief item of note in the afternoon's entertainment.

The special $1 Sweep which has been only recently recovered from some ailment, I understand, and may not yet be quite fit, but what I saw of her on Wednesday morning seems to indicate that she is capable of giving the other entrants a close run for premier honours.

Ajax is the main danger and is practically assured of a place. Loquacious was at one time considered one of the best among this year's batch and if this bay looks in trim condition in the paddock, may be worth a small bet. Schmetterling is a fair proposition though I believe this entrant may do no better than secure a place.

Carpentaria Handicap

This opening event over half a mile should be a near thing for Amber II, if she is anywhere near

S. CHINA DRAW AT HAIPHONG

Cheuk Shek-kam III, Flying Back

The South China Athletic Association football team on tour in the south played a 2-2 drawn match with Haiphong on Tuesday, June 6, a huge crowd of 7,000 spectators being present.

Lee Tin-sang was unable to turn out and his place was taken by Hau Yung-sang.

Cheuk Shek-kam has been forced to abandon the tour owing to illness. He is returning to Hongkong by plane. Fortunately, the tourists have been able to find the services of Soong Ling-sing, formerly of Eastern, who recently joined South China.

Wallend Handicap
Bredon, even at 155 lbs. looks a good thing for this race especially since the distance is just short of five furlongs, but there is a rumour that this bay is under a cloud and may not start. In the probable absence of Bredon, my fancy is Annabella, as this chestnut is well known as a sprinter of repute.

Discovery Bay, Macquarie River and Strathcarrick should have a tussle for the minor positions. Murray River is inclined to take a little time to get going, so I am not too keen on the chances of this chestnut. This race is the first leg of the Daily Double.

West River Handicap
If the connections of Galveston Bay should elect to start here instead of earlier in the day, she may find the opposition easier but will have to shoulder additional weight.

The chief danger will be Tyne and Laughing Girl, particularly the latter. I do not believe any of the others will threaten the favourites.

Shing Man Handicap
For the second leg of the Daily Double, we have the choice of Humdrum Eve or Oak Bay. The former is in excellent shape and should just about account for this millie race but Oak Bay seems to have also come on well recently that I feel this veteran racer will give the Lan candidate a severe battle.

Another good old timer to follow is Gladiator, who has also been showing improved form. Potentate is not entirely out of it and as the other probable starters are worthy of consideration as well, I expect a very close finish with the probability of an upset.

Great Eight Handicap
Astee and Derby Day should contest this six furlong event, with my preference for the former. Tornado Star is a bad starter but should this chestnut get off well, the two others will have strong opposition.

A good outsider is Janber as she has been showing improved form almost daily.

Lantao Handicap
Night View is my choice for this event although I am certain Dekko will give this black a great fight. Another good one is Flyby-right, who raced very well last Saturday and should be prominent again. Kings Worthing did a very nice gallop on Wednesday morning and seems to be in much better condition than when last

Amateur Golf

Kyle Wins Title In Tense Game

LONDON, May 27.—A. T. Kyle beat A. Duncan, the Welsh champion, by 2 and 1 in the 36-holes final of the British Amateur Championship here to-day. It was a grand fight if only for the fluctuating nature of the battle. Kyle had beaten J. Bruen, one of the strongest favourites ever, and then beat the last of the Americans, to enter the final.

It was not surprising that nearly half of Yorkshire travelled through the night to see Kyle win. Kyle's iron play, pitching, and putting have not let him down this week, although an iron shot or two strayed this afternoon, but then his pitching remained faithful and got him out of some tight corners. He had been two up at an early stage of the game, but was two down at the interval.

Any fears that he would not be capable of wiping out those arrears were soon dispelled, and while the golf may not have produced brilliant figures, it nevertheless gave a crowd of several thousands many tense moments.

Duncan finished the first round two up, the game having turned definitely in his favour in the last six holes, four of which he won. He had a homeward half score of 36, which, in view of the conditions, was as good as anyone could reasonably expect.

The Return Round

Duncan, whose long game soon showed signs of waywardness, drove into the rough at the first hole on the return round, and then sent two balls out of bounds. That meant a hole of his lead gone, and the other went when he hooked a drive out of bounds at the third and pulled his second effort into rough country.

There was plenty of incidents in the next three holes, all of which produced halves to leave matters all square, but Kyle, ran into a lead once more at the short seventh, where for a change Duncan was out to the right. Kyle, on the left edge of the green, chipped up well and holed from two foot for the win in three.

He lost the lead immediately by hooking his second at the eighth, whereas Duncan was home with two magnificent woods, but at the ninth the lead came back. Duncan bunkered his drive and played three more without reaching the green from some tigerish country.

Yet again Duncan squared when at the tenth, where Kyle three-putted for the only time in the round.

Keen Finish

At the short thirteenth he had to follow a really fine iron shot from Duncan, who put his ball a few yards from the pin, but Kyle got to within two feet of the pin, and when Duncan missed his putt he conceded the hole. That made the Scot one up again, and, though he lost the advantage through mishitting an iron shot to the long fourteenth, he went ahead at the sixteenth somewhat dramatically.

Both were equidistant from the pin three. Kyle putted dead, and Duncan stopped two feet short. Then, to everybody's amazement, Duncan missed that putt, and was one down. Whether that unsettled him was hard to say, but at the next he cut two shots, and the second of them went out of bounds. He had one more shot, and that found a bunker—and that was the end.

ROYAL HUNT CUP CALL-OVER

rared. This grey would be worth following for big money. Ebony Idol is always dangerous in this company and when at low weight, so that Mr. Dowbiggin's candidate will have some say in it at the finish to-morrow evening. Tibbete is also a tempting proposition at only 140 lbs. My final selections will appear to-morrow morning.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

TRAVELLER IS ABOUT to take a Freighter Trip to the United States with her husband. She wishes to know what type of clothing is worn, who to tip and how much?

WHEN TRAVELLING by a freight line clothes are not important. Linen dresses, slacks or play suits can be lived in all day aboard ship, in the evening an informal silk dress, blouse and skirt or the like is proper. You will take your meals in a small dining room with the Captain and several other officers.

Tipping for two people: $3.50 (gold) each to the dining-room and bedroom stewards at the end of the voyage is adequate if you do not demand too much attention; $2.50-gold-is ample for a single passenger. There will be no stewardess on board.

HARD PROBLEM

PRIVACY WRITES of a difficult problem. She is practically confined to her home through illness and living with her is a semi-companion who never leaves her alone. When friends visit the invalid the companion never leaves the room and conversation frequently becomes strained. What can the lady do she does not wish to ask the other to leave?

IT IS QUITE embarrassing. Even relatives will show more sensitive consideration. It looks however, as if you will have to be frank. With a pleasant smile, why not say, "We would like to be alone for a little while. And will you please close the door when you leave."

HARD-WORKING

HARD-WORKING MALE complains of women in business and especially married women. He contends the home is "going to the dogs" and that the woman's place is in the home.

OF COURSE, PERHAPS it was a mistake in the first place to allow women to be educated, and then to allow them to understand and practise democracy! On the other hand, the sex is required to leave off clinging, take on jobs galore in pretty well every phase of business and professional life when the men are away at war, when, of course, they are delighted to discover how many jobs they can fill, even unto helping make munitions.

Also they soon acquire the delights of receiving pay checks, and one dashed thing leads to another. Look what the Civil War did for Scarlett in "Gone With The Wind." It changed her from a free-frou frou to a hard-headed-business woman! Such masculine blunders will be hard to correct—and I hope you are not admitting that women are high enough in the business world to offer you competition!

MONEY'S WORTH

MONEY TRIALS, the wife reports that she and her husband do not seem to be getting their money's worth out of the monthly income. They just escape debt, are not able to save and have little to show at the end of the year for the money spent. What is wrong?

IT IS ABOUT time this husband and wife get down to a monthly budget. You can almost make a game out of it and within six months you will see an improvement. Keep books. A simple test for spending is to see whether it provides for the "musts" of life.

What you two want most, such as a home of your own, health, including medical care, proper food, security against unemployment. Even a modest income yields these "musts" when other items are properly budgeted.

How much should clothes cost? Take periodic inventory, seeing what can be revived with new accessories, repairs, clever alterations. The grocery bill stays down where you do your own buying and set aside a definite sum for each day's supplies, buy fruits and vegetables in season. Months when expenses are smaller than usual don't splurge with all that's left over. Save for months with heavy expenses. You must budget to get the most for your money and stay out of debt.

BORED WITH JOB

WHAT'S THE USE? Is a feminine 33 years in age. During the past six years she has supported herself and two children belonging to her sister whose husband deserted the family. Now, the family is running smoothly financially and the writer has her income for her own. However, she does not know what to do with it, is bored with her job, herself and life generally.

FIRST OF ALL take yourself to the most exclusive dress shop in town and "go wild", so to speak. Buy new frocks, and from the skin to the hat invest in a new wardrobe. Then into the beauty shop you go, arrange your coiffure differently, have a lesson or two on make-up. And then, what about a vacation, maybe travelling part of the way by air? Continue to do your work well, but when you leave the office, leave it there, too.

Try and become interested in people outside your office, flirt a little, and be gay. Remember to be charming to every male you meet for they can be used as stepping stones to others, it's the price of popularity. Go out and make your own good times, you will find plenty interesting people to help you. Stop being silly!

RINGS ON FINGERS

The woman with a square, short-fingered hand should never wear precious stones set in a row or held in a broad band of platinum or gold, according to ring experts.

A ring specially designed for the short-fingered hand consists of a circle of fine gold with a huge cabochon emerald set vertically across the hoop and slightly raised from the finger by a cluster of tiny baguette diamonds.

Dainty Design. Raised designs are always flattering to the plump, or "strong" hand. A charming example consists of several small emerald-cut sapphires in an anemone pattern, set half an inch from the finger in a heavy crystal band to enhance the effect of daintiness.

For the unusually long and narrow hand, broad eternity rings with baguette diamonds and other precious stones placed horizontally along the hoop are specially suitable. So also are rings adorned with one single square-cut stone, around which are massed precious stone chips.

CENTRAL MOTIF

Carved gold rings, the central motif engraved with various designs, such as a fox's mask or the head of Tutankhamen, are popular at the moment. And a large black pearl mounted in old gold, and surrounded by several smaller pearls in baroque design is yet another attractive style for the long, slender finger.

BEING CAUTIOUS

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: I am a widow 33 years of age with two children. The income provided for me and my family by my husband is plenty to take care of us and the children's education. However, I need other interests besides the children. There are three men whom I am interested in and consider marrying, but I do not want to make a mistake and ask your advice. One man has children of his own, he is grand, in fact best of all. But what a terrifying job to try to harmonize our two families.

Another man has never married and I shudder to think of breaking him into home life. Yet, he might make a marvelous husband, and the third chap is delightful but financially irresponsible. I'm afraid he may have an eye on my home, the car I drive, etc. I love my children, but they do not fill my life, and I am pretty much in love with the first man if I married him? CAUTIOUS.

DEAR CAUTIOUS: I admit that it would not be easy to work out a harmonious family with two sets of children, and certainly not worth the trying unless motivated by a deep and inspiring love and a steady resolute purpose to do the job well. Many a happy family life is worked out under such conditions while many others fail. If you would marry this first man you would both have to take time off from your initial engrossment with each other to establish confidence with the children, confidence with each other and with their new parents.

The other men you mention do not figure seriously because obviously you are not even a little in love with either of them. A first marriage does not always give you wisdom to handle a second one successfully, but it should at least

KING COTTON RULES THE SEASON

SUDDENLY ALL THE WOMEN AND STYLISTS in the fashion centres have realized anew the fresh charms of cotton. It is cool; neat; comfortable; it is chic when it is cut in the latest lines; it is the last word in style right now from the Atlantic to the Atlantic. And for the most part, it is easy on the pocket-book!

Maybe "King Cotton" was put on the throne by the influence of the styles in 1880 and 1900's when cotton was a favourite in every type of fabric from calico and gingham to printed and embroidered lawns and muslins.

Summer's new calico dresses with their simple round necklines, their full skirts and fitted waists, too, the white muslin dresses which have coloured ribbons woven into the lace insertions in an intricate pattern are "tops" of fashion.

"PLAY-TOGS" All the "play-togs" this year are fashioned from cotton. Bright striped wide-wale cotton pique skirts or the white muslin blouse with percale circular skirts in wild colours of the present popular shades flash with child smartness. The new printed "play-suits" of one piece with buttons down the front have shirred elasticized waistband. If you've never worn this fashion you haven't lived.

Not even "prohibitive cost" stands in the way of every girl looking as "smart" as possible during leisure hours. Playclothes are colourful, distinctive and moderately priced. Slacks, drindis, sun-suits, bathing suits, short tennis frocks there are colours and materials in these styles to suit the individual personality.

THE WAY YOU WANT TO LOOK!

If you want your appearance to challenge interest, make your personality a "show window," and dress your face and figure up to it.

Now, for instance, a pair of identical twins, adapting make-up, hair-do and ensemble to each girl's personality, is a concrete example which should prove helpful to you.

Say the models are five feet, five inches tall, slender, flat chested, square shouldered and slim hiped. They had long, thin faces, square jaws, and indefinite colouring, slightly on the sallow side.

Yet, one may be a chic sophisticate, the other an appealing ingenuite.

If you are the dynamic type, aggressive, sophisticated and self-reliant, you will want to take a hint from the one whose grooming was dramatic. Her make-up was definite, and daring—a "Joan Crawford mouth," pencilled brows, built-up eyelashes. Eyeshadow, applied to the outer corners of her lids, gave wider spacing to and brought out the colour of her eyes.

An experiment with identical twins.

PATIO DRESS

For evening you can't miss with a shirred cotton dancing costume called a patio dress, this type dress with full skirt, fitted waist, and low neck with puffed sleeves gives its wearer a divine figure. The pastel searsucker or gandy and the cotton laces are charming when tailored into simple billowy dancing frocks.

Coloured nets are used in evening attire, the dash of the costume is provided by the cotton trimming at the skirt hem, neck and armholes. Under the net frock a rustling taffeta slip is worn contrasting or matching in shade.

Organdy, pique, percale, cotton matelassé, muslin, linen are all used in the summer party dresses, but the dash and vim of individuality is created by colours singly or combined.

ACCESSORIES IN LINE

Not only is cotton having the "say" in the costume section of your summer wardrobe, but accessories are, falling into line. Linen shoes, bags, gloves and hats in natural or colour are being used from morning till night.

Pique, sacking, percales and duck or canvas, are fabrics found in the large handbags, big and small hats and bandanas, besides belts, scarfs and accessory trim of collars and cuffs.

Cottons washes, holds its colour, shrinks only once, iron beautifully, some is non-ironable, tailors well and saves you ladies many pennies!

teach you to stay out of a marriage where the ups do not over-balance the downs.

ROUND THE SHOPS

If you are going to Shanghai, Manila, Delat, Saigon, or, Kuning for a short leave, or even just over the hill to Repulse Bay, you will not feel exactly right unless you have one or two items "brand new" in your wardrobe.

And it is a "clinch" if you have really been doing any shopping you will not sing the song, "I Haven't Anything to Wear!" Our local shops have bargain values.

A Hat! A Dress!

Really, no frock is complete without its chapeau! You did not go to the Garden Party at Government House, yesterday in a smart costume, completely, but wearing no hat, of course not! The costume is the hat, the dress, the hose, the shoes and the accessories are the frosting.

And so you will find this great convenience in MAYOS, the house of unusual, daring, and exclusive hat styles contrasting or blending with their morning or afternoon costumes, as the case may be.

Doll hats, big hats, little hats, or maybe just a "puif" of a hat, any type you desire can be found here whether ready-made or to your special order.

Or maybe it is a dress problem—morning frocks in searsucker, voile, linen, acetate, spun sacking, percale each expressing a different personality. And the afternoon dresses, Navy net with white pique collar and cuff trim, sharkskin, crepe, spun linen, chiffon, in this selection, too, you find no two alike, each creation fashion right and colour bright!

Legs Are Legs

And there is nothing 97 women out of 100 can do about it. You can't get a new pair, but at least you can give them a little care and treatment.

dress up your best feature, eyes, hair, skin, figure, or even hands and feet.

Experiment with make-up to increase the drawing power of your face, and remember that you can apply it artfully and still look made-up. Substitute livelier colours for your conservative navy blue, gray or black tailored suits or dresses, or give them personality.

"punctuations" with bright accessories. High-style bags and gloves and hats with a bit of dash can, in themselves, convert conventional "livery" into smart ensembles.

THE ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD

The biggest picture in screen history. "The Adventures of Robin Hood" will be screened at the Oriental Theatre to-day and on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, starring Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland.
Errol Flynn, a veritable reincarnation of the legendary Robin, plays the title role. Handsome, young and adventurous, Flynn makes the perfect Robin Hood. Sharing honours with him is the demurely lovely Olivia de Havilland (who was his heroine in "Captain Blood" and "The Charge of the Light Brigade") who portrays his lady-love, Maid Marian. And they prove that medieval romance was even more thrilling than the modern variety.
The picture has a well-known supporting cast including Basil Rathbone, Claude Rains, Patric Knowles, Eugene Pallette, Alan Hale, Melville Cooper, Ian Hunter and Una O'Connor and many others.

Sidney Blackmer, currently featured in Paramount's "Me and My Gal," has been prominently cast in nearly 100 Broadway productions. Blackmer now gives his entire time to films.

"The Women": Successful New York Play For Screen

One of the most successful plays produced on the New York stage for a very long while is "The Women," which has been running for two years, and has now made an exciting debut in one of the West End London theatres.

The cast consists entirely of women, some 40 in number, and the theme is the ruthless inhumanity of woman dealing with each other, and with each other's menfolk.

Naturally enough, this play will be screened, and the preliminary steps have been taken for studio treatment.

Distinguished Cast

The cast will be a very distinguished one and will include Ina Claire, Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell. One cannot quite imagine what place Norma Shearer will find in this collection of "scratch cats."

But there is one among them more sinned against than sinning.

to the lot of Miss Shearer. The author in a preface to her play explained that she is not attacking women as a whole, but only a certain set in New York.

Box Office Guarantee

When the film is made, and if it be made without any concession to sentiment or sympathy, it will be interesting to discover whether the reactions of the typical cinema audience will be the same as that of the theatre.

Will millions flock to see a number of graceless women tearing each other's characters and even faces into pieces?

Probably the constellation of feminine stars will be enough to guarantee box office response.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY PLANNED KITCHEN

Mrs. Darcy Braddell has planned a kitchen with no dark corners, for cleanliness and easy management. The position of the sink, draining board and table save time and energy by reducing unnecessary movement. Off the kitchen is the little "alcove" room.

The Colour Scheme is in pale cream glossy enamel to walls and ceiling. The 4-foot dado of glazed tiles is in cream one cream one tone darker than the walls. Two capping bands of Vermillion provide the colour contrast. The windows are painted in the same shade.

Skirting is of Black glazed tiles with the wooden architrave moulding to the doorways enameled in Black to match.

As to artificial light the ideal kitchen should have special points over each essential unit; but this is not often practicable because of expense. Modern frosted glass fittings set flush against the ceiling give the cook ample diffused light.

THE OPEN DRESSER

A change in the modern kitchen that has been rather too drastic is the elimination of the old-fashioned dresser in preference for the entirely closed-in cupboard. This is not a good practice in the Tropics where fresh air must circulate as much as possible.

Open shelves of the dresser type and fitted above table height (30") cupboards are essential for things in constant use. For the enclosed cupboards themselves well fitting doors are essential—the type with an over-lapping lip edge are the most satisfactory.

Cupboards should not be too deep, 14 inches being about the most useful, whilst for those above five feet in height, should be considerably shallower.

The Bridesmaids

Miss Rosemary Prior and Miss Susan Wilson attended the bride. Their frocks of pastel pink and blue were charmingly set-off by poke bonnets; in their hands they carried posies of pink and blue flowers.

BOYS AND GIRLS!

Here's a wonderful opportunity for you to make some extra pocket money and to get a free ticket to see M.G.M.'s picture entitled "HONOLULU," co-starring Eleanor Powell, Robert Young, George Burns and Gracie Allen. Box Office Magazine voted it the Honour Box for the month of February in the U.S.A., in competition with five or six very fine films. The picture will play simultaneously at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres from June 17th 1939.

All you have to do is to secure a subscription for the "Hongkong Daily Press" for a minimum period of six months for a relative or friend. For the first thirty subscriptions received, each successful contestant will receive 20 per cent. of the whatever subscriptions he secures as commission and a free ticket to the best seat in the Queen's or Alhambra Theatre to see "HONOLULU." After the first thirty subscriptions are received, we will only pay the commission, so send your subscriptions in early to get the free cinema ticket as well.

Each contestant can submit as many subscriptions as secured and qualify for the commission and cinema tickets.

In all, there will be four competitions of this kind, each lasting one week. For each, similar prizes will be given (except that the picture for which the free cinema ticket is presented will vary), but at the end of the fourth competition, the "Hongkong Daily Press" will, in addition to the prizes and commissions earned, offer a special prize of $20.00 to the competitor who has brought in the largest number of new subscribers—so long as the number is not less than twenty.

This is the Fourth and Final contest of the series and will remain in force until 12 noon, on Friday, June 16th 1939.

Subscription rates for the "Daily Press" are as follows:—

6 months	$18.

HONGKONG CELEBRATES KING'S BIRTHDAY

Massed Bands Play At Review Of Garrison By H.E. The Governor

Hongkong celebrations in honour of the Birthday of His Majesty George VI began early yesterday morning with a grand review of the Forces at Happy Valley, at which His Excellency the Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, took the Salute.

Despite occasional heavy showers of rain, the Parade proved to be one of the most brilliant that the Colony has ever witnessed. The Jockey Club stands, as well as all vantage points around the Valley, were filled with spectators, there being a large number of school-children present.

H.E.'s Arrival

His Excellency the Governor, attended by Captain S. H. Batty-Smith, A.D.C., arrived at Happy Valley punctually at 8 a.m., escorted by a Motor-Cycle Detachment of the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps.

As His Excellency alighted from his car at the saluting base, the Union Jack was broken at the masthead, while the Parade was called to attention and the Royal Salute given.

His Excellency then inspected the Parade, which had been drawn up under the command of His Excellency the General Officer Commanding, Major-General A. E. Grasett.

After this, the Governor returned to the platform, where he was joined by Commodore A. M. Peters, Group Captain H. M. K. Brown, Commander J. Petrie, Lieut.-Col. H. B. Rose and Staff Officers. After he had led the March Past, Major-General Grasett also took his place at the platform.

March Past

The Massed Bands under Bandmaster H. Jordan struck up as the various units moved into position and, with the smartness and dignity as always characterize His Majesty's Forces, marched past the Saluting Base.

The following units took part, in order:—Royal Navy, Hongkong Naval Volunteer Force, 8th Heavy Regiment, R.A., 5th A.A. Regiment, R.A., Hongkong Regiment, Hongkong S.R.A. (mounted batteries), Hongkong Regiment, H.K.S.R.A. (medium batteries), Fortress Royal Engineers, the Royal Scots, the Middlesex Regiment, the Rajputana Rifles, the Kumaon Rifles, Hongkong Mule Corps, Royal Air Force and the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps.

After the March Past, the Parade again took up the previous positions. His Excellency the Governor then descended from the Saluting Base, while Major-General Grasett remounted and resumed command.

Cheers For H.M.

With the Governor and party facing the flagstaff and while the Parade presented arms, the Union Jack was lowered and the Royal Standard was broken, followed by the Royal Salute.

The Parade then advanced in review order and the Royal Salute was again given. Headdresses were then removed and three lusty cheers were called for His Majesty. The Royal Salute was then again given as the Royal Standard was lowered.

The ceremonials were terminated by the departure of His Excellency the Governor, who was accorded the Royal Salute as he was about to step into his car.

New Order

A distinguishing feature of the Parade was the new order of marching by forming three instead of four, which was put into effect by the Royal Scots and the Middlesex Regiment.

Included amongst the spectators was a large number of American naval officers and sailors, who arrived in two big buses and were accorded accommodation in the reserved enclosure. It is a coincidence that His Majesty the King was yesterday welcomed to their capital.

GARDEN PARTY

Governor Receives 2,000 Guests

About two thousand guests, including members of the Consular Body, the Executive and Legislative Councils, Government officials, heads of departments, naval, military and air force officers and civilian notables, representative of all sections of the community, were received by His Excellency the Governor at a brilliant garden party at Government House in the afternoon.

In contrast to conditions in the morning, the sun shone in the afternoon, and, with the varied styles of dresses worn by the ladies and the uniforms of officers, turned the grounds into a blaze of colour.

CONSULAR RECEPTION

At 1 a.m. His Excellency gave a reception to the Consular Body, while the Governor was guest of the Chairman and Committee of the Hongkong Club at luncheon.

Ships in harbour were dressed overall in honour of His Majesty's Birthday, with the noticeable exception of Japanese vessels.

At Shameen

SHAMEN, June 8 (Reuter)—The British community to-day cast away their cares and worries in celebrating His Majesty the King's official birthday.

A Review of the combined Police Force and Naval units was held at 9.30 a.m. in Queen's Garden, when Mr. A. P. Blunt, the Consul-General took the salute.

A reception was held at the Consulate-General from 11.30 a.m. to 12.15 p.m. at which the Consular Body and representatives of foreign communities were present. The health of His Majesty was proposed at noon.

SCHOOL BOYS IN FIGHT

Alleged Detention Of Two Youths

Five boys from the Pui Ying School were brutally attacked when they were alleged to be set upon by about ten others, believed to be from Robinson Road vicinity, about 10 p.m. on Saturday.

Iron bars and stones were used in the fight which took place outside the Canossa Hospital. The aggressors, at the conclusion of the fight, "kidnapped" two boys, while the remainder were said to have been beaten to a state which necessitated their being sent to hospital.

A passer-by witnessed the incident and informed school mates of the Pui Ying boys and later about 100 youths rushed to the scene, only to find a pool of blood in the street.

One of the alleged assailants was found and, on his information, the students went to a house in Robinson Road and surrounded it, demanding the release of the two Pui Ying boys, but were unsuccessful.

No report of the incident has been made to the police.

JARDINE'S CHINESE CLERK ARRESTED

Hankow Foreign Firms Alarmed

HANKOW, (Reuter By Mail).—The arrest of the chief Chinese shipping clerk of the Hankow branch of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co. Ltd., has caused considerable alarm among foreign firms here. Possible action against members of their Chinese staffs is feared.

The Japanese gendarmerie refuse to divulge any details regarding the man's whereabouts. There are grounds for belief, however, that he has been imprisoned by the Japanese gendarmerie and subjected to maltreatment in an attempt to extort information concerning the firm's activities.

The clerk has been in the employ of Messrs. Jardine for 25 years, and his record is excellent.

BRUTAL MURDER OF BRITON

THE BRUTAL MURDER, for no other term can properly be applied, of Mr. R. M. Tinkler, of the China Printing & Finishing Co., Pootung (on the side of the Whangpoo River opposite to Shanghai), by the Japanese, calls for the sternest possible action on the part of the British authorities and it is gratifying to note that London is taking an extremely serious view of the incident.

MR. TINKLER, whom the writer knew personally for more than fifteen years, was a man of quiet and amiable disposition: he was not the kind to go seeking trouble. During his years as a member of the Shanghai Municipal Police, in which force he attained the rank of detective-inspector, Tinkler got along well not only with his colleagues but with all with whom he came into contact. He proved himself to be an efficient officer and a valuable public servant. As a police officer, he displayed gallantry on a number of occasions when engaged in gun battles with armed robbers and kidnappers. That he should have become a victim to the blood lust of the "civilized" Japanese armed services and "the new order in East Asia" is as deplorable as it is ironic.

JAPANESE SPOKESMEN, of course, are making the usual flimsy and, ridiculous excuses. "Tinkler arrogantly pointed a revolver at the Japanese and even fired a shot, which was grave provocation to the Japanese navy," they assert. "That the Japanese bluejackets disarmed this dangerous character in self-defence and subsequently manhandled him is only natural in the circumstances. It is surprising that he was not shot and killed on the spot." Another spokesman offered what in other circumstances would have been an amusing excuse, "He may have come into contact with a bayonet during the scuffle." Frankly, we do not for a moment believe a word of these official Japanese excuses and do not hesitate to brand them as lies. We refuse to believe that Tinkler did what the Japanese allege and furthermore we do not believe there was any occasion for self-defence as the Japanese blandly put it.

TINKLER was brutally assaulted by the "saviours of the Far East." He was struck down by the Japanese with rifle butts, kicked and bayoneted three times in the abdomen. He had no chance, in face of the overwhelming number of his assailants, to defend himself and it is most likely that he was bayoneted, Japanese fashion, after he had fallen unconscious. Not satisfied with this, the Japanese posted three armed guards outside the door of the operating theatre of the Shanghai General Hospital whither he had been taken—probably to see that the man under ether did not escape! And he was not handed over to the British authorities until after his death, in spite of the latter's requests that he should be surrendered immediately after his detention by the Japanese.

THE JAPANESE CLAIM, that under international law, they have the right to execute summary action even insofar as persons enjoying extraterritorial rights are concerned, but the questions arise, "Do the Japanese understand the meaning of international law? Have they ever respected it?" Their actions in China give the replies in the negative. They have been branded "World Law Breakers No. 1" by Dr. Hu Shih, Chinese Ambassador to the United States and that description is a very apt one.

BRITAIN'S PATIENCE is being severely tested as a result of incidents like the present one and it is high time that the Japanese are taught by stern action, that they must never recur.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS:

SUCCESS OF LITTLE THEATRE GROUP HONGKONG'S GRATIFYING ARRAY OF TALENT

The general excellence of the Hongkong Chinese Little Theatre Group's production of the two native operas, "Sable Cicada" and "Dream of the Red Chamber," is a happy contemplation for both those who shared the success and others who, in one way or another, are interested in amateur play-making.

It was certainly surprising that groups keep up a fine record of productions and performances, two discouragements are ever present; which, but for the tenacity of sacrifice of those concerned, might very well drive all admirable effort underground.

Both aspects are financial, when considered finally. There is first the difficulty of finding a theatre or hall with full facilities for adequate performance. Such amateurs are as fortunate enough to possess halls of their own nevertheless are obliged to restrict the scope of their productions to suit their limited arrangements, whilst others must also destroy the style and quality of their performances in a small theatre with little moving space and a paucity of essential stage properties, and appliances, or face financial risk by engaging a proper theatre at a comparatively high rental.

Secondly, there is the question of public support. Public apathy cannot in its entirety be attributed to public distaste. Very often, poor attendance may be the direct result of impoverished production necessitated by lack of sound arrangements, or caused by high admission charges, which cannot be obviated because of excessive cost of production.

All in all, a great need is felt here for a theatre, properly equipped, which can be made available at moderate cost for all genuine amateur performances. The old Theatre Royal, part of the demolished City Hall, formerly met this need, but the Colony has been for many years without this convenience.

Apart from removing the financial burden which many amateur groups now have to face, such a theatre, as a cultural centre, will do a great deal towards engendering and promoting public interest and encouraging the formation of new amateur companies.

$10,000 ROBBERY IN MACAO

A sensational episode in Macao, in which four armed men took part and shots were fired, occurred on the night of June 6.

Three folks of a money-changer's shop, at the entrance of Kong Cheong Lane, Sar Lan Tsai, were relieved of about $10,000 in money.

A large portion of the money was contained in a rattan bag, which was being carried by a man named Ho Tew-lun, and a smaller amount by another, Toki. The third took carried an umbrella, under his arm, when they left the shop after closing their business at Sap Yip Chor Ng Street, and were proceeding to their residence at No. 7, Tai Thong Lane.

They had not gone far, when near the entrance of Kong Cheong Lane, the robbers, who are believed to have been waiting for the folks, took them by surprise and ordered Ho to drop the rattan bag.

The robbers fired several shots in the air, and made good their escape.

but the questions arise, "Do the Japanese understand the meaning of international law? Have they ever respected it?" Their actions in China give the replies in the negative. They have been branded "World Law Breakers No. 1" by Dr. Hu Shih, Chinese Ambassador to the United States and that description is a very apt one.

ANGLO-ITALIAN RELATIONS

NO BREACH OF AGREEMENT

Premier's Statement In Commons

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—In the course of a long statement on Spain in the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Neville Chamberlain said that, taking all circumstances into account, the Government did not propose to make any representations to the Italian Government unless the situation was materially altered by some new development.

Replying to supplementary questions, Mr. Chamberlain said that there had been no breach of the Anglo-Italian Agreement. Twenty thousand Italians and 6,000 Germans had left Spain, representing the great majority of the foreign troops there.

The Italian Air Force at Majorca was being reduced and a number of pilots had left. The remainder was expected to leave shortly.

Main Object Achieved
All Germans connected with the air base at Majorca had left, except two. The main object of the exchange of notes preceding the Anglo-Italian Agreement was to insure against the possibility that the Spanish Government induced to offer bases where war material might remain under Italian control.

Information available showed that the main objective had been achieved with the withdrawal of the Italians.

LONDON, June 8 (BWS).—In connexion with the celebration of His Majesty the King's Birthday, H. R. H. the Duke of Kent has been promoted Rear-Admiral in His Majesty's Fleet, Major-General in the Army and Air Vice-Marshal in the Royal Air Force.

The Birthday Honours include five Baronies and five Baronetcies, while 34 Knighthoods are conferred and two new Privy Counsellors are appointed.

The new Barons are Sir Arthur de Capell Brooke, Sir Herbert Cayzer, Captain Herbert Dixon, whose elevation to the Peerage will necessitate by-elections in Portsmouth South and East Belfast, respectively; Sir Henry Lyons; and Sir Frederick Marquis. The new Commissioner for Works, Mr. Herwald Ramsbotham, whose appointment to succeed the late Sir Philip Sassoon was announced on Wednesday, becomes Privy Counsellor, as does the Scottish Conservative Whip in the House of Commons, Mr. James Stuart.

The most prominent of the new Baronets is Dr. Robert Hutchison, of the Royal College of Physicians.

New Knights

The most notable of the new Knights Bachelor is Max Beerbohm, equally witty as a caricaturist or author in the literary era, which seems almost to have passed into history.

Prof. Owen Richardson, whose work on the emission of electrons from heated filament has been a valuable contribution to progress in radio and television, is knighted.

Dr. Drummond Shiels, Under-Secretary for India and later for the Colonies in Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's Second Labour Administration, also becomes a Knight.

Companions of Honour

There are two new Companions of Honour, Dr. G. P. Ochoa, historian and one of the editors of Bristol documents bearing on origins of the last Great War, and Mr. J. J. Mallon, Warden of Toynbee Hall, one of the Governors of the B.B.C. and well-known for his pioneer work in connexion with Trade Boards.

Seven knighthoods are conferred in the Dominions, sixteen in India and Burma, and four in the Colonial Empire.

Orders of Chivalry

Coming to the orders of Chivalry, it is interesting to note that, in view of the King and Queen's arrival in the United States yesterday, that Sir Ronald Lindsay, His Majesty's Ambassador at Washington, is appointed to the Order of the Bath Knight Grand Cross. The other G.C.B. in the Civil Division is Sir Findlater Stewart, Permanent Under-Secretary at the India Office.

Approvals and promotions in the Order of Saint Michael and Saint George include Sir Edward Harding, Permanent Under-Secretary at the Dominions Office, who becomes G.C.M.G. and Mr. Richard Butler, former Premier of South Australia, and Sir Humphrey Walwyn, Governor of Newfoundland, who are both made Knights Commander.

AERIAL BATTLE IN SOUTH

TWO JAPANESE PLANES DAMAGED

From Our Own Correspondent CHUNGSHAN, June 8.—Chinese war planes flew over Tientsin and Shantung on June 2 and were challenged by enemy machines, developing into an aerial battle. Two Japanese fighters were damaged in the dog fight, while the Chinese planes returned to their base in safety.

Chinese troops are launching fierce attacks on Sunkai, on the Canton-Hankow Railway, about 40 miles north of Canton, in an attempt to stem the Japanese advance northward. The enemy forces are said to be 15,000 officers and men.

Guerilla Raid

Chinese guerrillas on June 6 made a successful raid on Tung-kwoon, on the East River, and succeeded in slaying several puppet captains and majors. Before they retired, the guerrillas destroyed several ammunition dumps and set fire to military establishments.

In recapturing Wong Tong, near Samshui, on June 5, the Chinese forces killed over 300 Japanese soldiers and bluejackets. Several majors and lieutenant commanders were also killed.

Japanese Threat

Japanese reinforcements have been sent to Kowloon, on Triangle Island, south-west of Canton, and will advance westward to invade Kowloon and Hsinchow. To signify their threat, Japanese gunboats last night sent shells after shell on Tongsha, east of Kowloon, and inflicted heavy damage on civil dwelling houses and casualties on civilians.

ROYAL TOUR:

KING AND QUEEN BID FAREWELL TO CANADA

LARGE CROWDS ASSEMBLED AT HISTORIC BORDER

NIAGARA FALLS, JUNE 8 (REUTER).—CANADA BADE THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING AND QUEEN AN AFFECTIONATE FAREWELL FROM HER SIDE OF THE GIGANTIC FALLS LAST NIGHT, as over the water America waited in a mood of tense suspense to receive the first reigning British Monarch to set foot on United States soil, accompanied by his Queen.

Nearly half a million "neighbours" of the two great democracies in the Western Hemisphere had gathered throughout the day to witness the historic border over which Mr. Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State, on his arrival from Washington, will greet Their Majesties with a handshake.

Pleasing Mission

Mr. Hull spoke of his "pleasing mission of an informal nature" and said, at a press conference, that this was a time when a visit of this nature could be examples to those sections of the world which threatened chaos and anarchy in their international relations.

He added that no two peoples had more in common than the United States and Britain.

Their Majesties are due to stay two and a half hours on the Canadian side of the Falls, rejoining the Royal Train to cross the International Bridge at 1.30 a.m., where the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, will present Mr. Cordell Hull, who, like all members of the Welcoming Committee, is wearing a lounge suit.

Ten thousand school children massed outside the hotel where Their Majesties were dining privately before entering the United States, in the hope that they would appear on the balcony overlooking the falls.

Six Brief Stops

The train made six brief stops. Its run yesterday including Hamilton, "Canada's Birmingham," the sixth largest city in the Dominion, and Saint Catharines, where Their Majesties disembarked and drove the rest of the way to Niagara Falls by car.

After the presentations on the American side of the Falls, Their Majesties will return to the train, which will immediately steam for Washington, where President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt—and what is likely to be the first head wave for the summer—are waiting to greet their Royal guests at 3 p.m. to-day.

Through Wind Tunnel

After the customary civic reception, and presentations on the Canadian side of the frontier, Their Majesties drove to Table Rock, where they were conducted through the wind tunnel under the falls.

Amongst those Mr. Cordell Hull will present to Their Majesties will be the Military and Naval Aides-de-Camp appointed to attend on Their Majesties during their visit to the United States.

SOVIET PREPARED TO CONCLUDE AGREEMENT ON THE BASIS OF FULL RECIPROCITY

Progress Of Negotiations With Russia Outlined By Prime Minister

FOREIGN OFFICE REPRESENTATIVE TO CONVEY BRITISH ATTITUDE

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—"For reasons which the House will appreciate, it is not possible to give day-to-day information regarding the progress of the negotiations with Russia," said Mr. Neville Chamberlain in the House of Commons yesterday.

"The stage has now, however, been reached which enables me to supplement what I said on May 24.

"It appears from the last exchange of views with the Soviet, that there is general agreement on the main objects to be attained.

"The British Government have, I think, been able to satisfy the Soviet that they are in fact prepared to conclude an agreement on the basis of full reciprocity and have also made it clear that they are ready immediately, without any reserve, to join with the French in giving the Soviet full military support in the event of any act of aggression against her involving her in hostilities with the European Powers.

"It is not intended that the full military support which the three Powers would agree to extend to one another should be confined to cases of actual aggression on their own territory.

"It is possible to imagine various cases in which any one of the three Governments might feel that its security was indirectly menaced by the action of another European Power.

"These cases have been reviewed in detail and I hope it will be possible to suggest a formula acceptable to the three Governments, which, having regard to the interests of the other states, will ensure co-operation between those powers in resistance to aggression.

"There remain one or two difficulties to be resolved, particularly the position of certain states which do not want to receive a guarantee on the ground that they would compromise their strict neutrality, which they desire to preserve.

"It is manifestly impossible to impose a guarantee on states

SOVIET PACT:

BRITAIN'S SPECIAL ENVOY

AGREEMENT NEXT WEEK?

MR. WM. STRANG FOR MOSCOW

LONDON, JUNE 8 (REUTER).—REUTER'S DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT LEARNS THAT MR. WILLIAM STRANG, C.M.G., HEAD OF THE CENTRAL DEPARTMENT OF THE FOREIGN OFFICE, WILL BE BRITAIN'S SPECIAL ENVOY TO MOSCOW.

Mr. Strang has lately been in Warsaw on a private visit to the British Minister and is now returning home.

It is pointed out that Mr. Strang has been through all the developments and negotiations with the Soviet Government and is, therefore, particularly well qualified to be the bearer and interpreter of instructions to Sir William Seeds, the British Ambassador in Moscow, which are hoped to lead to an early conclusion of the Franco-British-Soviet Anti-Aggression Pact.

Mutually Satisfactory. It is learned from diplomatic quarters that the general bases of the formula, mutually satisfactory to the British, French and Russian Governments, have already been established.

These consist in mutually guaranteeing each other's "vital interests." Thus, if the Soviet Government should declare that it considers the territorial integrity and political independence of the Baltic States to be of vital interest, the question of a guarantee to those states would be raised and their objections to having a guarantee thrust upon them would be circumvented.

No Difficulty. It is felt in official quarters that in any case the question of finding a formula which will reconcile all conflicting viewpoints should not present any great difficulty, now that the Russian stipulation for full reciprocity has been agreed upon.

Mr. Strang will probably leave London by air on Friday and reach Moscow on Saturday or Sunday.

SYMPATHY FOR CHINA

LABOUR CONFERENCE RESOLUTION

GENEVA, June 8 (Reuter).—Some fifty countries will be represented at the International Labour Conference which opens here to-day.

Groups of workers met yesterday at a preliminary session and adopted two resolutions.

Firstly they warmly approved the peace initiative of President Roosevelt and urged him to continue his effort to achieve a durable and honourable peace by summoning an international economic conference.

Heroic Defence

Secondly, they expressed sympathy "with the Chinese working classes, who were heroically defending China against Japanese aggression" and concluded "the workers of the world are convinced that their enormous sacrifices will not be in vain and that the Chinese peasants know how to safeguard their independence against Japanese aggression, with whom nevertheless, the Japanese proletariat is not identified."

SHAI STOCK EXCHANGE

The main criticism appears to be the alleged casual manner in which the control suddenly withdrew announcing withdrawal its support and apparently abandoned at least temporarily, its mission which, in the words of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, was to preserve the stability of the Chinese dollar with a view to rendering material assistance to British trade and enterprise in China.

Critics voiced the opinion that the Fund would have discharged its duties more satisfactorily by permitting the dollar to seek a lower level gradually, ironing out the violent fluctuations in the course of the decline instead of maintaining a fictitiously high level then suddenly allowing a complete collapse leading to total demoralization on the markets. It is understood the Chinese bankers and brokers are meeting this afternoon to discuss the situation.

FUTURE A MYSTERY

With the future policy of the stabilization Fund as much a mystery as ever the exchange market to-day remained disorganized, business transacted being only limited amounts at widely fluctuating rates. Sellers of sterling quoted at the opening at 7d. or 13-5/8 cents (Gold) but these levels were not maintained for long and soon declined to 6-1/2 and 12-5/8, respectively, whereupon a harder tendency appeared and 6-3/4 and 13-1/8 were quoted at mid-day.

In the afternoon a further easiness was seen and the rates again plunged to 6-1/2 and 12-5/8 but the closing was somewhat steadier at 6-3/4 and 13-1/8. The erratic behaviour of the dollar reflected on gold bars which, opening at $2,245 soared to $2,440 in the middle of the morning establishing an all-time record whereafter the trend reversed and the price fluctuated throughout closing at $2,380. This compares with $2,098 at the opening yesterday.

Stop book conditions were witnessed on the Shanghai stock exchange as holders of idle dollar funds rushed to buy shares, large blocks changing hands at progressively higher prices though some of the profit-taking led to irregular movements in the afternoon. An exchange official estimated the prices mostly gained 5 to 10 per cent. on the large turnover.

Reasonable prospects for a full agreement being reached last week.

JAPANESE PERMITS NECESSARY

RESTRICTIONS ON SHIPPING & PASSENGERS

British Governments' Acquiescence

LONDON, JUNE 8 (REUTER).—THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT RECOGNIZE THE NECESSITY FOR SHIPS SAILING FOR INLAND WATER PORTS FROM SHANGHAI TO CARRY JAPANESE MILITARY PERMITS, Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, informed the House of Commons yesterday in a written reply to a question by Sir John Wardlaw-Milne (Con.).

Nine Ports

Mr. Butler stated that a notification had been received at the instance of the so-called Reformed Government in Nanking, that owners of vessels wishing to clear for nine specified places after June 1 must first obtain a certificate from competent Japanese authorities.

Sir Robert Craigie, British Ambassador to Japan, had been instructed to take up the matter with the Japanese Government that immediate instructions should be sent to the appropriate authorities to refrain from the insistence of military permits, the necessity for which was not recognized, as justifiable by the British Government.

Military Passes

In order to enable British subjects to proceed up the River Yangtze, the British Government has acquiesced in the requirement that they should hold Japanese military passes.

The British Government do not recognize in principle the Japanese right to restrict or control the movements of Britons and Sir Robert Craigie had been instructed to enter formal reservations, announced Mr. R. A. Butler.

Better To Acquiesce

Sir Nairne Sandeman (Con.) asked if the British Government had acquiesced in granting these passes.

Mr. Butler: Yes, because the situation on the Yangtze is normal and we have thought it better to acquiesce in order to obtain those facilities while making reservations on the general question.

NEW GOV. GENERAL FOR THE SUDAN

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—Sir Bernard Henry Bourdillon, G.C.M.G., K.C.M.G., K.B.E., C.M.G., Governor of Nigeria, has been appointed Governor-General of the Sudan, in succession to Sir Stewart Symes, who is retiring at the end of the year.

Sir Bernard Bourdillon went to Nigeria from Ceylon where he was Colonial Secretary from 1929-1931.

PETROLEUM UNIONS' STATEMENT

MEXICO CITY, June 8 (Reuter).—The unions of petroleum workers, now holding a convention, have issued an official statement that they will not under any conditions return the expropriated properties to the owners.

M. Ivan Maissy, the Soviet Ambassador in London, called at the Foreign Office yesterday morning and conferred with the Foreign Secretary, Lord Halifax, says Reuter.

TROOPING THE COLOUR

Queen Mary Present At Ceremony

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—The Trooping of the Colours was held at the Horse Guards' Parade this morning in honour of the King's Birthday. Queen Mary made her first outing since her recent motor accident.

A big crowd gathered outside Marlborough House and cheered Her Majesty when she drove to the ceremony.

Those taking part in the ceremony must have been thankful for this morning's weather which was ten degrees cooler than yesterday.

Over 1,500 officers and men of the Brigade of Guards were on parade or otherwise participated in the wonderful pageant in which the traditional movements were carried out with astonishing precision to the impressive accompaniment of slow and quick march music played by the massed bands of the Guards' regiments.

The Duke of Gloucester in the uniform of Colonel of the Scots Guards deputized in the King's absence. The Duke of Kent accompanied his brother, Princess Margaret accompanied Queen Mary, Princess Elizabeth being absent owing to a slight cold.

Her Majesty, together with other members of the Royal family and General Gamelin, French Chief of General Staff watched the glittering military cavalcade from the balcony.

In the House of Commons yesterday, says Reuter, the Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, received the Turkish editors visiting Britain under the auspices of the British Consul at Ankara.

SAGRES INCIDENT

RIGHTS IN RESPECT OF COMPENSATION

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in reply to a question, re-raising the Sagres incident, stated that full information was necessary for the formulation of detailed claims and these were not yet available.

He added that as Mr. Chamberlain had stated on May 24, the Government would reserve all their rights in respect of compensation.

Malaya's Magnanimity

OVER £7,250,000 FOR EMPIRE DEFENCE

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—Cheers greeted a statement made by Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary of State for the Colonies, in the House of Commons yesterday, in which he declared that the free gifts from Malaya, towards the cost of Empire Defence during the past ten years had amounted to more than £7,250,000, in addition to the expenditure borne by the Malayan Government for the local forces, including His Majesty's forces in the Peninsula, amounting to £15,000,000.

ANTI-MALARIA CAMPAIGN PROGRESS IN ASIA

When royal persons travel they choose the best and the most learned medical doctor to accompany them and so it was that Leopold III, King of Belgium, on his trip to the Congo colonies, was accompanied by one of the most eminent scientists on tropical diseases: Prof. C. D. de Langren.

Professor de Langren, who was born in the town of Groningen (Holland) in 1887, is one of the world's greatest authorities on tropical diseases and especially on malaria. His name is famous wherever scientific work, aimed at the ultimate eradication of this scourge of humanity, goes on.

Not only being a learned man, but also a great teacher and a charming causeur, Prof. de Langren for a number of years represented Holland and the Netherlands East Indies, as well in South and North America as in all parts of Asia, in Japan, in China, the Straits and the Philippines on numerous congresses, which dealt with tropical diseases. His Clinical Textbook of Tropical Medicine, which he wrote in co-operation with Dr. A. Lichtenstein, has become an indispensable guide to the student of tropical diseases.

Greater Recognition

The judgment of Prof. de Langren on the prophylactic and therapeutic effects of quinine on malaria is considered of the utmost importance.

At the Ninth Congress of the Far Eastern Association of Tropeal Medicine at Nanking Prof. de Langren remarked "It is of importance in judging quinine as a general remedy that in the course of the years it has won for itself in medical practice a range of indications far beyond that of mere malaria treatment."

"In more recent years quinine and the products derived from quinine received greater and greater recognition especially in heart and lung conditions."

And in his Clinical Textbook, which we mentioned above, he writes "It is our firm opinion that pregnant women who abort during an attack of malaria owe their miscarriages to the high temperature. They should therefore be given full doses of quinine. We have never seen the least objection to this in practice."

Favourable Opinion

This extremely favourable opinion of the beneficial effects of quinine was corroborated by the Malaria Commission of the League of Nations, of which Prof. de Langren was a collaborator.

This Malaria Commission published a Report in which it recommends for the treatment of malaria a daily dose of 15 to 20 grains of quinine to be taken during 5 to 7 days and for the prevention of malaria a daily dose of 5 grains of quinine during the malarial season.

Prof. de Langren, who worked in the East since 1914 returned in 1935 to his own country where he was appointed professor at the University of Utrecht. In the same year he attended the Third International Congress of Tropical Medicine and Malaria in Amsterdam.

TELEVISION STARTS IN GERMANY

PRICE OF RECEIVING SETS REDUCED

LONDON, June 7 (T/Ocean).—Television will soon be general in Germany, according to a recent announcement, and those who wish to do so may participate under the same conditions as in the case of the ordinary radio.

Former television broadcasts were really more in the nature of research rather than of a type of general test, and now the premiere of general television is to follow throughout Germany.

The price of the receiving sets has been reduced so much, thanks to modern technical improvements, that it is reckoned there will be a large number of buyers. The public television stations of the Reichs Post Office will remain open, free of admission charge.

A comparison with the methods of the German Post Office with developments in England is instructive. Dr. Gerald Cook, director of British television, wishes to start a five year plan for the development of television.

He has laid down the principle that television must remain a "bachelor", that is to say, that it must preserve its independence from encroachment by the ordinary radio.

He further declares that the future of television is dependent upon the attitude of the Post Office, which has so far been very mean towards television, expending upon it only the ridiculous sum of £200,000 annually.

BRITISH PHILOLOGIST IN GERMANY

LONDON, June 7 (T/Ocean).—Prof. Dover Wilson, the well-known English philologist and man of letters, recently delivered a lecture on Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" in the Goethe Hall of Harnack House, headquarters of the Kaiser Wilhelm Society. His audience included members and their guests.

During a stay in Germany, Professor Wilson will have the opportunity of studying various arrangements in the social, scientific and political life of modern Germany.

PROTESTS AND MORE PROTESTS!

BRITON WHO WAS SLAPPED BY JAPANESE

LONDON, June 8 (Reuters).—In the House of Commons yesterday, in reply to a question by Mr. F. J. Bellenger (Lab.), Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, made a statement regarding the incident in the Hongkew General Hospital on April 24 when Mr. A. D. Samson, Assistant Commissioner of the Municipal Police in Shanghai, was stated to have been slapped by a Japanese navy man following the fatal accident in which Mr. Bertram Lillie was killed.

Protesta Made

Mr. Butler said that the British Consul-General had addressed a protest to his Japanese colleague against the assault on Mr. Samson and he understood that similar action had been taken by the Shanghai Municipal Council.

Mr. Bellenger asked if steps could not be taken to protect British officers who for various reasons had to enter the hospital.

Mr. Butler: The reason for the protest was to try to stop incidents like this, happening in future. We will do all we can to protect British lives.

SECRET PLANES FLY PAST 700 PEERS & M.P.S.

Details Withheld At Special Display

About 700 members of both Houses of Parliament and other distinguished visitors on May 23 attended an air display arranged for their benefit at the R.A.F. station, Northolt, Middlesex.

The programme began shortly after 10 a.m. with a mass flight by 24 Wellington bombers, but the principal host, Sir Kingsley Wood, the Air Minister, was prevented by a Cabinet meeting from arriving until 1 o'clock.

One of the most interesting events was the bombing of a target on the aerodrome with practice bombs by two flights of Spitfires. This was followed by a dive bombing display. The target was only a few hundred yards from the visitors' enclosure, and the accuracy with which the pilots dropped their bombs was remarkable.

Clockwork precision

The whole programme, which included formation flying on Hurricanes by R.A.F.V.R. pilots, aerobatics by three Gladiator fighters, a demonstration of the speed range of the Spitfire, and air drill by a squadron of Hurricanes, was performed with clockwork precision.

After the balloon demonstration which concluded the air display, great interest was aroused by the sudden appearance of two secret prototype aircraft.

The first of these, a silver coloured twin-engine monoplane, shot across the aerodrome at what appeared to be a terrific speed, even in comparison with that of a Spitfire.

MASS SPIRITUAL MOVEMENT

Marked Progress In Kwangtung

SHANGHAI, June 7 (Unl).—The Mass Spiritual Movement launched by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in Chungking is gathering momentum in Kwangtung under the direction of Gen. Li Han-yun, Chairman of the Kwangtung Provincial Government, who has made a good start first among civil servants and service men.

The essence of this movement is efficiency in public administration, honesty of character, filial piety and refusal to co-operate in any way with the enemy or puppets. All government employees of the Provincial Government have refrained from giving dinners for entertaining guests and work long hours in the interest of efficiency.

A spirit of revival is omnipresent in Kwangtung both among the populace and troops as a result of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Mass Spiritual Movement.

BOY RAJA AND WIFE OF HIS HEADMASTER

DIVORCE DECREE FOR HUSBAND

Surprise Return To Bungalow

Raja Mohamed, nephew and adopted son of the former Sultan of Perak, was cited as co-respondent by Mr. Bernard Freedy, formerly headmaster of a school at Kuala Kangsar, Perak, who was granted a decree nisi in the Divorce Court on May 24.

Mr. Freedy, now an officer in the Education Department of the Federated Malay States, petitioned for divorce from Mrs. Lillian Josephine Freedy, on the ground of her adultery with Raja Mohamed, who was formerly a pupil at Mr. Freedy's school.

The Judgment

Mr. Justice Hodson, giving judgment, said that in 1937 the husband was suffering from neurasthenia.

In 1932 Mrs. Freedy left her husband in Malaya and came home. Mr. Freedy said that she did so declaring that she intended to leave him for good.

He saw her on one or two occasions in 1935, when he was home on leave, and she rejoined him in Malaya in 1936.

They lived together, not in great harmony, in 1936 and the early part of 1937. During this time the wife's association with Raja Mohamed began.

Suspicious Boosed

Raja Mohamed had been a pupil at the school while Mrs. Freedy was in England. He began to take the wife out riding, and Mr. Freedy's suspicions were aroused in March, 1937.

On March 31 the husband consulted his solicitors. Acting on their advice, the following day he asked Mrs. Freedy if she had misbehaved herself with Raja Mohamed. She replied that he was a "nice-mannered boy."

On the day the wife returned from Penang her husband went into hospital suffering from neurasthenia. He was a man who kept control of his feelings, and was no doubt suffering a very considerable strain.

That night the co-respondent stayed in Mr. Freedy's bungalow. By that time the co-respondent was in love with Mrs. Freedy to her knowledge, and she was, at any rate, fond of him. They were in constant association for the next few days.

Forced Door Open

When Mr. Freedy returned home with a friend, a Mr. Walker, they went to the bedroom, and considerable force was used to open the door.

Mr. Freedy looked round and saw the co-respondent crouching near a dressing table.

The co-respondent's slippers were outside the door, and on seeing that he was discovered, he said, "Sorry, Sir," and bolted as fast as he could, knocking over something in the hall.

In regard to Mrs. Freedy's conduct, Mr. Justice Hodson said that she did not, at the time, attempt to give her husband the explanation she had now given. She acted as if she had been caught in the act.

Adultery Committed

"I feel satisfied beyond doubt that adultery has been committed," remarked Mr. Justice Hodson, who added that it was a case in which the husband could ask for the exercise of the court's discretion.

The judge said, "I see no reason why there should be any refusal of a divorce on that account."

Mr. Justice Hodson, who exercised his discretion in favour of Mr. Freedy, granted him costs against the co-respondent.

The Japanese Consul-General in Tientsin, Mr. Shigenori Tashiro, is to be appointed Deputy Foreign Minister of the "Manchukuo" Government as soon as the present office for Foreign Affairs in Hainking has been converted into a proper Ministry for Foreign Affairs. Mr. Tashiro's successor in Tientsin will be the present first Secretary of the Japanese Embassy in London, Mr. Yoshio Muto. (T.O.)

ERNST TOLLER FOUND HANGED

Tragedy Of German Author's Exile

NEW YORK, May 22.—Ernst Toller, the German author and playwright, who was exiled from Germany and deprived of his citizenship after Hitler came into power, committed suicide in a New York hotel to-day by hanging himself with the belt of his dressing gown.

His wife, Christiane Grautoff, the actress, who was one of Max Reinhardt's discoveries, is at present in Hollywood.

Toller's body was found early this afternoon by his secretary, Elsie Burroughs. The police, in recording the case as one of suicide, reported that no notes were found, but friends of Toller state that he had been depressed about events in Germany and had been in ill-health for some time.

YUNNAN'S TEA
INDUSTRY

KUNMING, June 8 (Central).—
Under the direction of the Yunnan
Tea Corporation, tea industry efforts are being made to improve the tea industry of the province.

Besides increasing the production of the article and extending its markets, the corporation is now planning to mark off 11 haden in the province, namely, Shunning, Kiangcheng, Kingku, Shang-
kang, Fohai, Mokiang, Hsiao, Takwan, Wenghan, Lantsang, and Chenyueh, as tea-producing centers where modern methods of plantation will be applied and competent men be trained.

In Shunning, Shangkiang, King-
ku, Mienling, Lantsang, Kiangcheng, Fohai and Chenyueh, tea factories will be established.

In close collaboration with the China Tea Corporation is the China Tea Trading Company, Ltd. of Yunnan, a concern jointly organized by the Yunnan Provincial Government and the Ministry of Economics.

Two Organizations have jointly created a Yunnan Tea
Industry Improving Committee
specially charged with the improvement duties.

Yunnan is one of the largest tea-producing provinces in China.
Tea is produced in 28 ha-ten scattered all over the province, averaging more than 70,000 piculs annually.

In Fohai, in southern Yunnan
near the French Indo-China border, alone, the annual output
is about 10,000 piculs.
Yunnan tea has been marketed mostly inside the country, especially in Szechwan, Kweichow, Sikiang and Tibet. Owing to communication difficulties, only limited quantities are exported abroad.

JAPAN'S INDUSTRIAL STRUCTURE
CRUMBLING BENEATH
WAR STRAINAccidents Last Year Exceeds
Any Known Total

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Int'l).—
Anti-war feelings in Japan and the possibility of being involved in a world war as an Axis partner of Germany and Italy are largely responsible for a recent series of accidents in which hundreds of lives were lost and vast property destroyed, according to an unimpeached dispatch from Tokyo.

The Japanese are wondering, said this dispatch, if the nation's industrial structure is not crumbling beneath the weight of the "protracted war in China."

Officials describe the accident
list for 1938 and 1939 as "appalling."
The munitions and coal-mining industries, both of which have been running at white heat since the war started, have been the scene of one disaster after another. Investigations have indicated that machinery is wearing out, and that the emphasis on speed, instead of safety, is a large factor in the problem.

Official figures showed that there were 379 industrial accidents, mostly fires, in 1938.
This exceeds any known total by 66 per cent. It was thought to be an all-time high.

But 1939 is already well ahead
in horror. In less than half a year, 200 similar accidents have occurred 84 per cent more than last year's supposed record.

The frequency of these disasters
brought Japanese detectives immediately on the lookout for sabotage. If any evidence of it was discovered, it was never announced.

THREE CAUSES
A police survey listed three general causes for the ever-
darkening industrial record:

1. The use of unskilled workmen in the mines and munitions
factories.
2. Over-hasty conversion of factories into munitions workshops without installing proper safety devices.
3. The "dissolute" lives of workmen who are receiving unprecedented wages from war. Japan lacks the industrial machinery to feed her guns on a scale as large, anfor a period as long, as the China War has demanded. Hence, hundreds of factories were made over.
They have not been able to stand
the wear and tear.

The broad basic reason, however,

CHINESE DOLLAR
BREAKDecision To Allow Exchange To Find
Natural Level

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Reuter).—
"The attempt to stabilize the Chinese National currency at 84 or 85d has been abandoned," declares the "Financial News" in dealing with the break in the Chinese dollar.

This paper says that the Chinese Stabilization Fund yesterday decided to allow the exchange to find its natural level.

No effort will be made to peg
the exchange again until there is good reason to believe that it has reached a level at which it can be easily defended.

The decision to allow the exchange fall was taken in view of the deterioration of China's trade balance and the recent big capital efflux. This caused heavy inflows into the $3,000,000 reserves of the Stabilization Fund, although there is no truth in the suggestions that these resources are nearly exhausted.

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Reuter).—
Exchanges were firm and an amount of business was done this morning at intermediate rates between 7 1/8 and 6 1/2 for sterling.

From the lower level of 6 1/2, the market rose to 6 15/16 on rumours that the control banks were selling and there was a certain amount of profit-taking. Towards the close, buyers again appeared and sterling
eased to 8 3/4 pence.

"Times" Comment.
LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—Commenting on the Chinese Stabilization Fund's withdrawal of support for the Chinese dollar at the rate of 8 1/4, "The Times" City Notes
ridicules the rumours that the Fund has lost a great part of its sterling resources, but says that it has clearly been found that the demand for foreign exchange against dollars at the recent rate of 8 1/4 is too large to be met indefinitely and it seems that the Fund, rather than lower the rate
by a fixed amount, decided to withdraw from the market temporarily and allow the rate to find its own level.

In due course, doubtless it will step in and fix a new peg at a lower rate and, in the meantime, presumably, it will operate as may be necessary in order to prevent any excessive violent fluctuation.

But in a case of a country like China the value of a definitely fixed rate is naturally considerable and it is likely that the peg will be reintroduced as soon as possible.

That the Fund is well in a position to do that at the appropriate moments is clear from the official statement issued in Shanghai
yesterday.

GOLD MINED
FOR CHINA'S WAR CHEST

CHUNGKING, June 7 (Central).—
With technical help from the National Resources Commission of the Ministry of Economic Affairs and various provincial authorities
six gold-mining administrations have been organized in the provinces of Sikiang, Chinghai, Hunan, Szechwan, Honan and Kwangsi.
Dredging these concerns is the Bureau of Gold Mining under the Ministry.

Most Chinese gold comes from private mining organizations. In 1938, 56 new permits were granted to such enterprises, making a total of 101 gold-mining companies.
There are also a number of individuals and groups which have not troubled to ask for permits. About 150,000 ounces of gold was mined
by licensed miners last year.

Leading Provinces

Szechwan is one of the nation's leading gold-producing provinces.
More than 200,000 of its people are mining and washing gold, especially along the upper reaches of the Min and the Kialin rivers. With pick and pan, each gold-washer in northern Szechwan washes an average of two dollars worth of gold a day.

Aiding these gold-miners is the Chinese Industrial Co-operatives which has helped organize 12 gold
co-operatives in southern Szechwan, and is planning to extend its service
to miners in Szechwan, Hunan, and other provinces. It is hoped that the total output of gold in western China will be increased to 300,000 ounces or $63,000,000 worth before the end of the present year.

Is that Japan's productive machinery has begun to crack
under the strain.

Mystery Surrounds Briton's Death At Pootung: Collapse Of Mr. Tinkler's Colleague At Mill

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Reuter).—Another Briton belonging to the same company as the late Mr. R. M. Tinkler, of the China Printing and Finishing Company, whose death followed an attack by Japanese bluejackets at Pootung, has died in mysterious circumstances in Shanghai.

In response to an urgent telephone call, an ambulance was sent to the Customs Jetty last night and picked up Mr. H. McAllister, aged 35, who is stated to have collapsed in the Company's mill at Pootung across the river.

The cause of his collapse is not yet known and he was pronounced dead on his arrival at the hospital.

British Must Be Wiped Out!

"ASIA FOR ASIATICS ALONE"—JAPANESE SPOKESMAN

The British people in China must be completely wiped out and Asia made safe for Asiatics alone, said a Japanese spokesman at a recent mass meeting in Wuhu, according to a foreigner who had just returned from the lower Yangtze.

The Japanese spokesman was speaking at an anti-British meeting and was explaining Japan's desire to create a "New Order in East Asia."

Chinese civilians were compelled by the "puppet" government to take part in the lantern procession and to shout anti-British slogans.

Wuhu Situation
Wuhu, said the foreign visitor, has been almost completely prostrated by 16 months of Japanese occupation. Formerly a prosperous clearing centre for such renowned products of Anhwei as tea and rice, this city, 55 miles up-river from Nanking, has lost its former metropolitan characteristics.

Practically all the big stores moved further inland prior to the Japanese approach in December, 1937, and in their stead now flourish opium dens, brothels, gambling houses and other such enterprises as thrive under Japanese control.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES

maintains a total of nearly 80 units, including curative, nursing, preventive and ambulance units, spread over the various fronts, and concentrated in areas where fighting is the heaviest.

In addition to medical supplies and funds, Dr. Wu has also received a number of ambulances donated by friends and sympathizers in America, British Malaya, Netherlands East Indies, Australia, and Europe. These too, have been sent to Dr. Lim's organization.

"CHAMPS" BEAT "BULL DOGS"

The first match in the first round of the Ewo League (3rd Tourney) was played off last evening at the Bowling Alleys between the "Champs" and the "Bull Dogs" which resulted in a win for the former by 116 pins.

Only one of the "Bull Dogs" team turned up, Bombardier Baker, who had to enlist the services of Messrs. Chas. Miller, F. R. Hollis and Gray to make up the team.

Scores:
"Champs": Ernie Hearther 543, Dick Venezia 496, Doc Molken 485 and Gene Faggiano 420. Total, 1944.

"Bull Dogs": Chas. Miller 540, Hollis 479, Gray 429 and Baker 380. Total, 1828.

PARTICULARLY BAD CASE

LONDON, June 8 (Reuter).—The Tinkler case is given prominence in most of the papers though there is no comment. It is regarded as a particularly bad case in official circles, but action in the matter awaits a Consular report from Shanghai.

ANOTHER JAPANESE THREAT

ISOLATION OF TIENTSIN CONCESSION

DEMAND FOR FOUR ALLEGED CHINESE ASSASSINS

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Reuter).—It is authoritatively learned that the Japanese have presented a further ultimatum to the authorities of the British Concession in Tientsin.

The Japanese threaten to erect a barrier and to take other steps to completely isolate the Concession, unless the four Chinese, alleged to be involved in the assassination of Cheng Shi-kang, Commissioner of Customs in Tientsin, on April 9 last, are handed over within two days.

S. AMERICAN CHALLENGE IN GOLF TOURNEY

LEEDS, June 8 (Reuter).—British golfers failed to resist the South American challenge for leading place in the final of the qualifying round in the "Yorkshire Evening News" £75 tournament on the Temple Newsam course.

Emilio Serra, Uruguayan champion, heads the field with rounds of 69, 72, two strokes ahead of W. Spence, (Middleton Park) and J. H. Bussen (Formby).

Thirty-two players, including four South Americans, succeeded in qualifying with scores of over 149. Among the notable failures were Charles Whitcombe, ex-Ryder Cup captain, and Jose Jurado, of Argentina.

Anti-British Agitation In Pootung

SHANGHAI, June 8 (Reuter).—The British Consul-General, Sir Herbert Phillips, called on the Japanese Consul-General this afternoon and requested that immediate measures be taken to fully protect British property in Pootung and to suppress anti-British agitation there.

Sir Herbert also requested that measures be taken to prevent intimidation of Chinese workers in British mills.

The British Consul-General reviewed the whole situation, particularly as it affects the China Printing and Finishing Company's works, and pointed out that that an armed agitator yesterday fired shots when two British employees tried to encourage striking millhands wishing to return to work.

CIVIL DEFENCE ENROLMENT

LONDON, June 8 (BWS).—The actual number of persons now voluntarily enrolled in Great Britain for various civil defence services is over 2,150,000.

The Chinese Ambassador in Berlin, Mr. Chen Chieh, arrived in Frankfurt yesterday for a visit lasting several days. A comprehensive programme of events has been arranged in his honour. The Ambassador, accompanied by his daughter and members of the Embassy, visited the China Institute to inspect its famous collection of Chinese art treasures. (T.O.)

Two by-elections are rendered necessary by the elevation to peerage of Sir H. Cuyzer, Conservative member of Parliament for Portsmouth South, and of Captain Dixon, who represents East Belfast in the Commons. (BWS)

"Wan Ching-ho, 18, amah of No. 2, Kimberley Street, first floor, Kowloon, accidentally fell from the landing to the ground floor, and sustained serious injuries to the head. She was sent to the Kowloon Hospital.
